Nice to meet you!

Alternative title: Love isn't Blind

Jackie is a young and beautiful career woman whose life is perfect except for one thing: when it comes to dating she's a loser magnet. Her love-life is a consistently depressing parade of would-be princes who turn out to be trash. Desperate, she turns to her best friends for help. They agree to find her the perfect husband, but only on one condition: they get total control. She won't even get to see the new blo. Right until after the "I do's" are said. When his right is finally revealed, will she like what she sees?

Besides successful and beautiful, Jackie is very shabby. She is a successful art-director and she coordinates photo and commercial shoots for a fashion brand. The perfect job to meet beautiful but shallow men. She is also a fanatic fitness trainer at an exclusive gym. Also a great place to meet men, if you like 'muscles no brains' that is.

After we get to know Jackie a little bit, we get to see a hilarious compilation of dates with bad, strange and awful men. This could be a guy who turns out to be married, a guy who turns out to be gay, a guy who's after her money, a guy with a horrible laugh, a nerdy guy who tries to look up her skirt all the time, not to mention the (blind) internet dates. Her love-life is a consistently depressing (but funny) parade of would-be princes who turn out to be trash.

In total despair Jackie turns to her friends for help. They agree to find her the perfect husband, but only on one condition: they get total control. She won't even get to see the new blo. Right until after the "I do's" are said. Jackie agrees.

The group of friends

Think 'Sex in the City' but also a really (very smart) girl, a male gay friend and the most important one: Evelyn, the nice (but so beautiful) sister who just got engaged. Since Jackie and her sister are very close, the friends decide that it will be a double wedding... Jackie and her sister will marry on the same day, at the same location.

The friends (and Evelyn) take the hunting job very seriously and we get to meet a number of potential husbands. One of them, Nathan, seems to be perfect and the friends come up with some hilarious tests to make sure he truly is Mr. Right. Is he romantic? Is he funny? Intelligent? What's his idea of married life? Is he good with kids? Is he any good in bed? Since it's for the good cause, there are no barriers to what the friends will do to find out. The friends are also very creative in arranging some secret encounters between Jackie and her potential husband Nathan, especially since she is never allowed to see him. A 'tag night' for him and a 'ben night' for Jackie would be perfect for an exciting and fun 'almost' meeting.

Wedding preparations

In the meanwhile, together with her sister, Jackie is busy making all the wedding preparations. The sisters are both nervous and Jackie wishes she never agreed to this insane idea.

She won't get to see her new husband until after the 'I do'

The Reveal

Then, the big moment is finally there: Jackie is getting more and more nervous, the tension grows. Mr. Right will finally be revealed. Will Jackie like what she sees?

This is the moment where we, the writers, have to surprise everybody. Not only Jackie but the viewers as well. A big shock when it is not the handsome successful guy we all thought it would be (Nathan)... It's her sister's favorite Andrew! And Nathan, the handsome business man is standing next to Evelyn. The confusion couldn't be bigger.

We shortly met Andrew in the beginning of the film. Jackie helped him prepare his original proposal to her sister, she helped him shopping for his wedding suit... They always had a lot of fun. A quiet friendly guy, not very handsome and even clumsy at moments. Jackie always got along great with her future brother in law.

This will be the writer's biggest challenge: Making sure the viewer never thinks that he is an option for Jackie. Later, it turns out that the relation between the sister and her soon-to-be husband was far from perfect. The sister realized that he would be a much better match for Jackie. Since she promised to find her the perfect husband, and since she loves Jackie so much, she was willing to give him up.

Also, Evelyn was the one who had to test Nathan on his romantic skills. Obviously there was a spark between them and they turned out to be a perfect match.

Wo, the viewers, will be excited and happy. We liked the obvious handsome yuppie man with his perfect hair and big car but never as much as Chummy Andrew.

When the big reveal moment is there, the editing will do it's magic to add to the surprise and excitement.

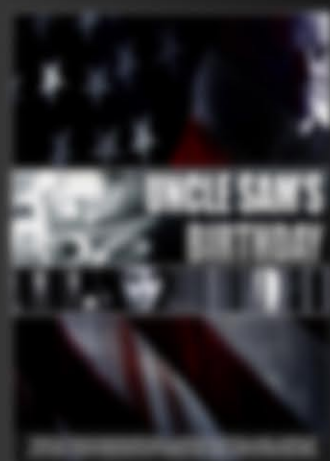

Also, the emotional interaction between the 4 main characters is very important. Jackie's emotional reaction towards her sister (extremely surprised but later hugging and crying from happiness) is just as important as the surprise and excitement on Jackie's face when she sees it's Andrew.

We end with a big but good wedding party and a passionate kiss of Jackie and Andrew.. and oh Evelyn and teacher Nathan going crazy on the dancefloor.
