Introduction

Crank That Dinosaur (from now on CTD) is a huge spectacle show in 3 words. Contestants are people 18 - 40, both men and women. The big difference with other 'obstacle shows' Machine! Silly machines, fast machines, lethal machines... It's about oil, it's about rubber, it's about destruction and total annihilation of your fellow contestants.

And the environment? Let's not talk about that.

ROUND 1 - THE MAD MOPED DISASTER COURSE

FUN 75 % / ACTION 25 %

Comments...

We start with 10 commentators. An interesting mix of men and women. Some are funny, some really serious, some come about once and/or twice, some are really fast, some really fat, some don't even have their drivers licenses...

Maps...

There there are the maps, 4 different maps, local maps, big maps, strange and silly maps, hot maps...

With each and every one of them is something wrong, but despite all these shortcomings all are pretty hot and in pursuit of completing the obstacle course. The maps look cool, but the way from really strange is extremely fantastic. By means of chance all commentators have been assigned to one of the 4 maps. The goal? Who will complete the entire obstacle course in the least time. The 10 best commentators go on to the second round. The best for that really big goal that he has to ride the really big moped, tough task.

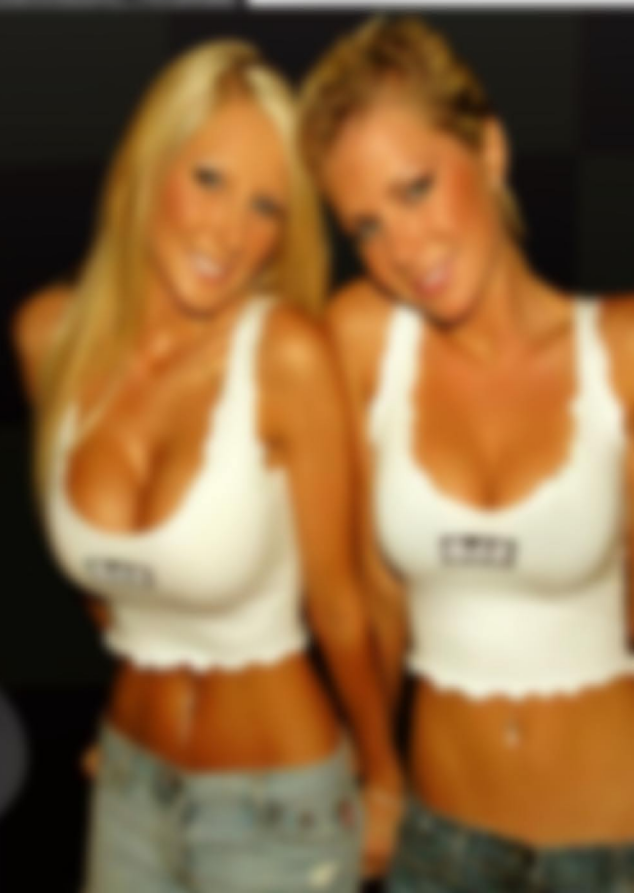

The course...

From start to finish there are 8 obstacles to complete. But these obstacles are fun and you go on to the next round. It's about disaster, it's about insanity, about being someone but about all about speed and balance.

The obstacles...

- The Obstacle - The edge
- The puzzle of road - The heavy
- Super Super Super - The Super
- Range of the
- Movement - The Super Super Struggle
- The Balance Super Super Struggle
- Disruptive Party
- The Prodigy Party

ROUND 2 - QUADBALL MANIA

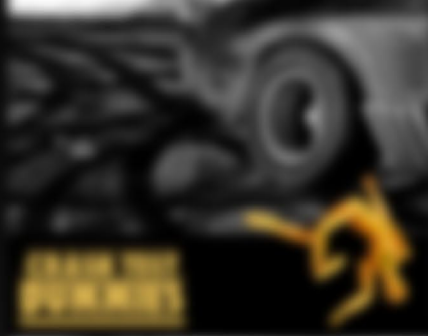

FUN 50 % / ACTION 50 %

Equipment & Goals

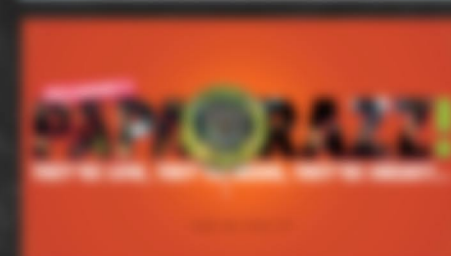

The 10 remaining contestants get into light-weight armored quadric bikes to face quadric bikes in a square concrete arena. On each side there is some sort of goal, some are larger, some are smaller. The smallest goal scores the most points, the biggest goal the least.

From high above a huge ball drops into the photograph. With their quadric bikes to score as many goals as they can (maximum 4pts). The 4 contestants scoring the most points after 10 minutes go on to the final.
